By Phat

In my opinion, three of the most pleasant experiences in life have to do with waking up in the middle of the night. They concern sounds which lull you right back to sleep. . . . They are (a) the pounding of the surf on the beach, (b) the lullaby of wheels clicking over rails and the wail of the locomotive whistle while in the locomotive whistle while in a Pullman and (c) rain on the roof. . . . The latter I had this morning and was I happy that it wasn't Nov. 17. . . . I had another hour of dopiness to listen to that symphony.

VILLAGE TIME, or Sun time, it's all the same, is going to be something interesting to watch, something interesting to watch, there are so many angles. . . . For instance, remember what the jewelers all tell you, never set a jewelers all tell you, never set a watch or clock back, always forward... When you come into town and pass those twin palms at the north gateway, your watch will say, let's put it, 8 o'clock... You move it up one hour to nine but when you go north past those two palms, look out. If your watch says 9, don't move it back an hour to 8. Move it ahead 11 hours to 8. . . . Seems it's bad for the works to turn it backward.

TANOTHER gentleman scratching his head and worrying about Sun Time and Nov. 17 is Clint Jones of KCMJ... He has to arrange the logs for the station. His station's coverage is far beyond the city limits of Palm Springs... So when he fixes his log, he's got two sets of time to contend with... For instance, the Hit Parade (I would think of that) will come on here at 10 p. m. after Nov. 17 but at Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs, Indio, and so on, it'll still be 9 p. m... Jones has an order in for Aspirin.

Then there are Rolly Dunlap the Greyhound and Jimmy Shea of the F.S.P. They're worried over anticipated complaints about being an hour ahead for departures and missing arrivals by an hour.

ON THE OTHER HAND I think I'm going to like it... I got a plan... In the cold, grey dawn when the alarm sounds off at 6:30, I'm going to say, "Hek, it's only 5:30," strangle the clock and roll over for another hour... On the other hand, comes 5 p. m., I'm just going to ignore Standard just one subject. . . . T be William Rashall. . That was to doesn't like to be called "William," wants to be called just Bill... But I want to insult him today to get even. . . . Some time ago I nicknamed him "Wild Bill" for a reason. . . He doesn't believe in finesse, end runs or laterals—just bulls right through the middle of the line, but he gets the story, a regular editor's delight... When told to go get some item, he gives forth with the usual gripes and grumbles which are any reporter's inalienable right and mumbles something about "slave drivers," but brings home the yarn... But yesterday came the straw that broke the general's back came the sack. . . .

TOO BUSY to have breakfast until about noon, I came back into The Sun news room in time to hear him talking to his wife. . . "Peggy, honey," he was saying. "I won't be home to lunch today. When they christened that guy When they christened that guy Rupert, they made a terrible mis-take. They should have called him Simon, Simon Legree, that ert Sun late yesterday afternoon is."... So if he's going to call me Simon instead of Phat, I've got a Gwynn Wilson as a member of new name for him, too. . . . He hates to do society stories. . . . So this morning I assigned him four social events to cover and said I was going to call him

Cholly Vilagino from now on. . . . Is he burned up! IT LOOKS as if I was almost down to the end of the column.

Wilson is a graduate of the University down to the end of the column. So want to remind you to put out your Flags Monday. . . It's Armistice Day. . . Palm Springs Totals Line Up With Trend In State and Nation

Palm Springs voters, 1463 of them out of 2110 eligible to vote here and in Cathedral City, went to the polls Tuesday and even out-proportioned the state in the resultant Republican landslide.

The vote was one of the largest ever cast here and, combined with the long ballot, kept most election boards at work all night and one, combined 1 and 8, on the job until 12:20 Wednesday afternoon

IN KEEPING with the rest of the state, the Village went over-whelmingly Republican. Although registration figures showed only 75 more Republicans than Democrats here, in the contested races, Republican candidates carried the city over their Democratic oppon-

This announcement was made ollowing the selection of excolonel Franklin Rose by the city council last night as the person who will operate the field under a lease-management agreement with the city.

MORE THAN A SCORE of applications were considered by the city council before it finally city council before it finally agreed that Rose was the man it wanted to operate the abandoned Army air base. The airport manager first started flying in the Army as a cadet of 18. Following the close of the World War I he sold airplanes from 1920 to 1923. His flying career includes flying the mail for Varney Air Lines, operating a flying school, assisting in the orflying school, assisting in the original development of the Oak land Municipal airport and vicepresident and general manage for Varney Air Lines. In 193 he became president and general manager of Varney Speed Lines operating, as he said, the fastest airlines in the world between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

HE DEMONSTRATED Lockheed airplanes to the governments of Europe and aided in securing and surveying of air mail contracts for Western Air Lines from the Mexican government.

From 1935 to 1940 he operated his own company called the Franklin Rose Aircraft, Incorporated of Oakland and distributed such civilian aircraft as the Stinson, Ryan and Taylorcraft. At Stinson, Ryan and Taylorcraft. At the outbreak of war with the

Sun Time Proclaimed By Mayor

120-Day Trial of Daylight Saving Plan Authorized

Palm Springs will enjoy an extra hour of sunshine commencng November 17.

This was decreed Wednesday when councilmen voted six to one authorizing Mayor Clarence Hyde to proclaim daylight saving time or "Sun-time" as it will be known here, November 17, for a period of 120 days. The only dis-senting vote was cast by Charles Farrell. Councilman Maurice Mc-Cann, who declared that he was not acting in the best interest of his constituents and that most people were against the measure, still voted for the proposition.

WHEN THE VOTING got around to Councilman Farrell, he declared that most of his guests at the Racquet Club and people he talked to were in favor of "Sun-time" but urged that the council postpone its voting for another two weeks.

be placed in affect was expected at the city council meeting Wednesday night. This forecast was evident following a public hearing on the proposal held in the council chamber last Monday night

AT THAT TIME Ted Martel, chairman of the general com-mittee, saw a packed auditorium rise to their feet, when he asked those in favor of the measure to stand. Only ten or eleven protestants rose to their feet when Martel asked the opposing side

The attendance at this Monday night public hearing came under attack by Jack Connell, operator of a metal shop here. He declared that the group who appeared on Monday night did not represent the people of Palm Springs. D. K. Arakelian, wealthy home owner, choed Connell's words.

HOWEVER, following the suggestion by Martel that the council act on the proposition as a whole, Culver Nichols immediately put the proposal into the form of a motion and it was uronnet. It was then that the verbal pyrotechnics began with Jack Connell and Areklian on side and the city council on the other.

the other.

"The crowd was not representative," opined Connell.

"They who wanted to oppose the proposition had their chance of attending the public hearing Monday," Culver Nichols answered back. Armand Turonnet, Ted Martel, and Mayor Hyde supported Culver in his rejoinder.

WHEN THIS DEBATE was ver and it was apparent that a ote was about to be taken, A. L. pstein, prominent Chicago wyer and home owner, rose and Epstein, lawyer and home owner, rose and asked for permission to address the council. For a time he met with some barbed words from Connell. The famous attorney was able to parry these with unusual excellency bringing forthbursts of laughter and he then appealed to the council for permission to use the floor without being heckled, as he called it.

The Prodigal Son in the Bible story chose his friends and as-sociates and they landed him in ruin and spiritual destitution," said Dr. Macartney. "On the other hand, there is the Biblical character, Ruth, who chose her friends and associates and won security, protection and a high place among the women of all time."

DR. MACARTNEY'S sermon Sunday morning will be broad-cast over Radio KCMJ.

At 6:15 Sunday evening, the Rev. James Blackstone will ad-dress the young people of the church.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dr. Macartney will deliver a sermon on the theme, "Have Courage, My Boy, to Say No." A moving picture, "We, Too, Receive" will be shown and the Blue Nightingales and Junior Singers will be heard in song. Rev. Blackstone will lead the congregational singing.

Fellowship hour for the whole church will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. with a praise, prayer testimony and Bible study session

There have been several reports of local tarantula "migra-tions" on the desert, usually occurring in late fall. The reason for such mass movements is unknown, for the tarantula is not a social spider in any sense of the word, preferring rather to live apart or else attack and eat his neighbor. In the Palm Springs area tarantulas rather suddenly become more numerous than usual in the fall. This may be due to scarcity of food, which makes wandering a necessity, or it may be due to the fall rains, which might flood their burrows and "WITH THIS OVERALL plan drive them out into the open in search of new sites. If any readers of this column have ever seen such tarantula migrations, that data is desired by the Desert Museum, and will be gratefully are beginning to wonder. Such as . . . the recent remark that the tiny waist effect just is not quite so good right now. Seems that just a few weeks ago we read that a woman should practically be ostracized off the street if she did not have or at least feign a 17 inch waist.

THE ONE MAIN ENEMY of the tarantula is a large wasp, of the genus Pepsis (Greek for "digestion," derivation unknown), commonly called the Tarantula Hawk. It is a wasp up to two inches in length, with red-orange shiny wings and a brilliant me-tallic blue-black body. Being of such great bulk, it cannot fly rapidly, hovering just over the ground like a hummingbird. After alighting on the earth, it is much more at home, and darts about in nervous and rapid fashon, searching in every crack and opening for prey: a hiding tarantula. That is one of the main reasons why tarantulas are noc-turnal, for after nightfall the Management has been given to the committee headed by Ernest Alschuler and assisted by Charles Pepsis wasp is inactive; then only is this giant spider safe to forage unprotected.

THEN THEY TELL us that someone somewhere said that maybe silver fox furs might be coming back. Well well . . . it was very considerate of "them" to decide . . . but somehow we have a feeling that if we had a silver fox we would have been wearing it all through this in between time. between time . . . and somehow do not believe we would have felt appointed in her slick page fashion magazines. This rather disjust to be different we think illusioned stage is in regard to illusioned stage is in regard to what is "in" and what is "out"

Your reporter is more than a little confused and somewhat disso completely out of it all.

... what is "good" and what is ust "not being worn." We thought we were keeping quite close tab on most fashion news ... but perhaps that is the trouble ... we probably have just been too analytical and now suddenly we are beginning to wonder. we will like ours more than ever and still will feel as comfortable as can be in them.

Then . . . in one magazine we were informed that shoulder-

strap bags were on their way out

. . . several pages later there was featured a full page of photographs of lovely shoulder strap purses. You do understand when we say we are confused and yes ... quite amused also.

HAVE YOU BEEN noticing along with us . . . how silly some fashion news sounds? Especially when the editor seems so adament about some fashion phase . . . and makes us feel that we should remain under the covers . . . shades pulled down . . . un-less we wear (or omit) some certain style . . . then in the next issue she takes entirely the opposite view.

Of course we understand there are trends and we all enjoy reading about new ideas and trying to practice them . . . but when our fashion editors become so vehement about some minor thing and even contradictory . . . we feel like forgetting the whole. we feel like forgetting the whole thing and letting our own native judgment be our guide . . . otherwise we would constantly be discarding clothes and running out and purchasing new ones every day or do you suppose the y . . . or do you suppose that "their" idea?

A valuable oil painting, por- | Kinkey, highest peak in North trait of aged Chief Francisco Patencio, was donated to the Desert Museum last week by its creator, Dorothy Abowitz, of the Village. The painting was done from life and shows the blind Cahuilla Indian chief seated in the sun with his left hand to his forehead, a pose that he unconsciously assumes in his daily sun siestas. Mrs. Abowitz spent two week on the canvas, working only a few minutes each day.

The picture was displayed on loan all last season in the museum, and attracted much attention. Leaving for an extended trip to Mexico, to paint the natives of that country, Mrs. Abowitz generously decided it should be on display.

OTHER ART objects to be seen at the museum now, include a large oil painting of a desert landscape loaned by the Paul Grimm gallery; a set of beautiful black-and-white scenic photo-graphic donated by Stephen Willard, the original sketch-books of that early Palm Springs desert artist Carl Eytel; (loaned by Edmund C. Jaeger of Riverside) and two oil paintings of desertscapes by Marius de Brabant, donated by his brother-in-law, Paul Scham-

NEW ADDITIONS to the display of live desert animals last week included a tarantula brought in by Mrs. A. J. Odell of Rancho Dell and another young sidewinder rattlesnake, bringing the total of these snakes up to three, and the live tarantulas to the same number.

Other additions include a branch and knot of Ribbonwood and a bushfit's pendant nest, both donated by Mr. Grunert. The skull of a fox was also brought in by four local high scnool boys, found on their hike up Murray

LAST TUESDAY evening the Desert Museum showed two sound color films to a capacity audience in the little room in the basement of the library. The first shown was filmed in Palm Springs. Dear Phat: It appears that—

1. Most people are in favor of having an hour more sunshine.

2. But, many are worried that the benefit would be gained at a great cost due to the confusion that would result. Train, bus, plane, radio, etc., schedules would have to be interpreted according to "Village Time" and many visitors would be innocent "victims."

Now, it does seem much simpler to me if the Village would merely vote to open business an hour earlier, and close an hour earlier. It would be such an easy thing to do and by far less radical than having to change one's watch each time he passed by the city gates. If places of business were run on an earlier time schedule, people would orientate and adapt themselves to it.

For that reason, I would like o step aside, for one week, from usual letters on government problems, or conditions in Washington, and comment on a little card I was given the other day in Huntington Beach. Of course, mentioning Washington does remind me of Irvin Cobb's comment on that city. The little card was given me at a Rotary club luncheon. I was a guest there, and the speaker. The president of the club gave a card to each member. It was titled, "The Four Way Test," and apparently represents a guide to business policy established by a Chicago business man, Herbert J. Taylor. He and his associates apply this four-way test to their business transactions and de-

Is it the Truth? mean if authled to the affairs of government! 1. Is it the Truth? If that simple test had been applied to the publicity and the propaganda pouring out of the Washington agencies in the past few years, how many bright and inexperienced young men and women would have had to give up soft jobs and apply themselves to harder and more constructive work? If the late Chester Bowles had been required to apply it to the clever but deliberately inaccurate material with which the country was flooded

Earnest Emery, our social studies and physical education teacher out at Junior High, has finally decided to settle down. I guess life in this little village seems pretty dull to Mr. Emery after all his adventures, which include crossing the Atlantic Ocean four times, teaching school in British West Africa for three years, and conducting a tour all through Europe. Mr. Emery was born in Sedalia, Missouri. His first teaching job was in Indiana, after which he came to Los Angeles where he met the Superintendent of Schools of Palm Springs, Miss Finchy. Mr. Emery was impressed by the marvelous school system Miss Finchy described and de cided to accept her offer of a job . He came down here in 1943 We are very pleased with Mr. Emery and hope he will continue his fine work for a long time.

WITH HELP of our five teachers we plan to make one of our biggest projects physical education. The boys' program started out with a bang on touch football. Credit for their marvelous beginning was given to the teachers, Mr. Emery, Mr. Olsen, Mr. Scott and Mr. Mannington. Along with the regular physical education classes the boys are given a change to take special work.

"I am very pleased with the results of our new afternoon program," says Mr. Mannington, principal of Nell'e Coffman. This principal of Neil'e Collman. This program consists of many interesting subjects. Each student chooses six subjects including P. E. and has a class in each two periods weekly.

CLASSES which students may choose from are: Dramatics, radio, boys' glee club, girls' glee club, music appreciation, orchestra, art, shop, photography, home-making, PALM SPRINGS, CALIF. Friday, November 8, 1946

The orchestra and girls' glee club gave a first performance at a recent parent-teacher meeting. The radio class plans to broad-cast some radio plays over KCMJ.

The boys' glee club, under the direction of Mr. Alexander Hammond, also plans to give some programs this season.

THE WHOLE school is satisfied with the program as it enables the students to choose six subjects while with the old plan they only could choose four.

Every citizen who exercised his right to vote last Tuesday, can point with honest pride to the part he played in keeping America American. He knew how very much his country needed his help and he didn't hesitate to act.

The voting citizen is alert to the fact, that although this elec-tion has restored our way of life, the battle is not yet won. The year 1948 will be Round 2. He knows that another attack may seep up from the underground— one engineered by those ism-followers, who spent thousands of good American dollars wrung from thousands of loyal American workers, to knock the props from under the Constitution of the ISM-FOLLOWERS aren't easily convinced. Even though the election went against them, it will take further instructions from an aroused citizenry to convince them that this nation has more to offer its people than any other nation in the world.

It is to be hoped, of course, that many gullible people who swallowed the bait offered to them by the CIO-PAC, the Independent Citizens committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions and other kindred groups, reached out, after election day, to recap-ture the Americanism that they were willing to sell short. If they did recapture it—well and good. But even a recovery of conscience cannot erase from their memory book that they failed their countries that they have in distance in the countries that they have in the countries that try when she was in distress.

"RIGHT MAKES MIGHT." So said Abraham Lincoln in 1861. This great man also said "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by extreme of wickedness folly, can very easily injure the government."

America, with the help and vigilance of an aroused citizenry, came into a new dawn. It is a glorious feeling to be a real American.

"What a crowd," "Gee, the band is REAL good," these were some of the comments that flew some of the comments that flew back and forth at the Carnival dance Friday, November 1. It was one of the gayest affairs put on at the high school in recent years. The climax of the evening was the crowning of Don Williams and Sally Robinson as King and Queen of Carnival. The announcement was made by Vivian Gautiello, G. A. A. president, as the eight candidates stood beside her. A hush fell over the auditorium as Don and Sally knelt to receive their crowns. White carreceive their crowns. White carnations made up Sally's, while Don's was made of gold paper.

THE FIRST performance of the school's swing band was very good. Under the direction of Mr. Gustave Patzner they played several popular numbers. Every-one was greatly impressed by the band which has been working to-gether for only six weeks.

The auditorium was well decorated for the dance in a circus atmosphere. Crepe-paper stream-ers, balloons, and candy stripped paper covered the stage curtain. Circus figures such as "the thin man" were hung along the north side of the auditorium.

HIGHLIGHTS of the evening was the auctioning of a large drawing of "Lena, the Hyena," by Jack Reis. After much spirited bidding between Bob Landry and K. K. Youngs the drawing went to Dr. E. K. Woods, who suddenly entered the competition. It was learned later that he plans to display it in his dentist office. # Editorial

The whistle blew, and the game with Sherman Institute ended with Palm Springs' first league victory of the year. But before the football game was played and during the playing of the game, the Service Club was hard at work. The game wouldn't have looked so good if there hadn't been lines to mark the 10-yard lines and goal lines, or during the game if one of our players got game if one of our players got away from his opponents only to trip over or run into a bystander who was too close to the outside lines.

The job of the Service Club extends over more than the football games. They watch lunch lines dish up ice cream, place baskets in the auditorium and many other useful deeds around school.

The job is made no easier by name-calling and balking students who run to lunch lines, crowd in on the football lines and push into ice cream lines. What would the school be like if everyone ran to every line and the motto to getting lunch or ice cream was "Survival of the Fit-test." In a few weeks the school lawn would be specked with canes and crutches of students who come around a corner too fast, got in the way of a human meator, or had a football player land in his lap.

This state couldn't exist so someone has to watch these things and that someone is usually a member of the Service Club.

The club wishes to express its whole-hearted thanks to those students who help us and do not defy us.—HERB MENNELL.
